Horse Thieves Lynched. Special to the Gazette.

Socorro, N. M., October 7.—Two of the four fellows who went through Browne & Manzanares store at Lamy about ten days ago and made a good haul, besides taking a couple of horses were arrested here Wednesday evening and this morning they were found disgracing the limb of a cottonwood tree, on Methodist avenue. The characteristic placard, "The fate of footpads and horse thieves," shows that Socorro is a bad place for bad men.

Arizona Advances. THE REDS SURRENDERING.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—A Tucson dispatch says the Citizen's special from San Carlos states that news from Sub-Agent Hoag says eighteen of George's band came in and surrendered. Maj. Wilhelm has started to Camp Thomas with them. George is reported in concealment near there with four men. This verifies the wisdom of Sanchez's advice, who said if everything was kept quiet the hostiles would all come into the agency, and he promised to point out the guilty ones. A Wilcox dispatch to the News from San Carlos says George left the sub-agency last night with fifteen men.

TWO MORE VICTIMS. A report was just received which says two men were killed within two miles of Benson to-day.

WILL PURSUE THEM.

A dispatch from Col. Bayard, just received, dated Sulphur Springs Valley, six o'clock this afternoon, says the hostiles are striking for the Mexican line. He will follow them into Sonora and will co-operate with Mexican troops if necessary.

The Indians are in southern Chihuahua mountains. Men just in from the direction of Bowie report seeing Indians in that vicinity and troops are to be ordered in pursuit.

WHERE THE REDS ARE.

Tombstone, October 7.—A dispatch from one of the volunteers who went out after the Indians on the morning of the 5th learned that the Indians were making direct for San Bernardino ranch in South Chihuahua mountains, Sonora, about seventy miles from Tombstone.

LATER.

From C. D. Reppy, of the Epitaph, who went out with Major Clum and party returned at 8 p. m. It is learned that the Indians after passing McLowry's ranch broke up into small parties and struck out from Swisshelm mountains, a spur of the Chiricahuas that flanks the eastern side of Sulphur Springs Valley, near the south or upper end.

BOUND TO CATCH THE REDSKINS.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—A Tucson dispatch says: Gen. Wilcox with staff arrived here last night. Bernard telegraphs from Soldiers' Hole, via Tombstone, 8 a. m., that the rain softened the trail badly and he cannot move without losing animals, but will move to-day. The Indians are in the southern end of Chiricahuas. It looks as if the Indians will get over the Mexican line. It can hardly be possible that the Mexican government will object to our following these murderers into their territory. I will not cross the line with any disrespect to their government but with the intention of punishing the murderers and robbers, and to enable me to do this I will co-operate with any Mexican troops that will assist, but will not turn back until I have the Indians or am ordered to do so by the proper authorities. The Mexican consul at Tucson has telegraphed to Chihuahua and sent a courier to different points on the line to have the Mexican troops co-operate with our forces.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS.

A Wilcox dispatch says: Reports were just received from Bowie station that Col. Sanford just ordered out two companies of the 6th Cavalry, on a special train for that place. There are rumors that more Indians are leaving the reservation, but not credited here by the military. Reports from Thomas about Bayley's scouts deserting are confirmed by a dispatch from Col. Smith, commanding that post, who says they left yesterday evening. Col. Sanford received information from Thomas that cavalry has been sent after the renegade scouts who deserted. Col. McKenzie is here and reports all quiet at the reservation this evening. Col. Carr and command have been moved from San Carlos to the sub-agency. To-day was regular issue day. There is no information as to the number of Indians present.

Cablegrams.

IRISH LABOR LEAGUE.

Dublin, October 7.—By special invitation Parnell and the executive committee of the Land League Labor convention will assemble in Dublin at the end of October for the purpose of coming to a national organization of farm laborers to act with and under the direction of the League. A separate labor executive committee will be formed which will direct and control the organization. Delegates from England will attend. A few prominent leaders of the labor movement will be selected at the convention as candidates for Parliament.

BETTING AGAINST FOXHALL.

London, October 7.—The betting in the race for the Czarowich stakes is 9 to 2 against Foxhall, 6 to 1 against Mistake and 7 to 1 against Retreat.

A LITTLE BLAZE.

Liverpool, October 7.—A fire in the Exchange building to-day was extinguished after burning cotton samples and some office fixtures.

Mining Stocks.

New York, Oct. 7.—The mining associated press reports that for the past eleven days mining stocks have been very active, total sales being greater than for any other week in three months. Business, however, has been of a very unsatisfactory character. Prices, with few exceptions, either showing no change or declining. Among stocks which improved were Meese, which advanced from 110 to 120, and Hibernian 39 to 44. With the exception of Comstock, and a few leading properties, mining stocks are considered very low, and the best informed operators are holding for advances. Total bullion receipts from mines $188,892. Total sales of mining stock at both exchanges nearly 900,000 shares.

Democratic Still Hunt in Ohio.

New York, Oct. 6.—The Times' Ohio special describes the Democratic still hunt in Ohio, and declares that Bookwalter has put a hundred thousand dollars where it will do the most good next Tuesday. It is also stated that Tilden's interest in the Ohio campaign has revived, and he has contributed liberally to the campaign fund. He is especially interested in the Democrats gaining control of the Legislature, which would redistrict the State for Congress, thus insuring the Democrats a majority in the Ohio delegation. By aiding in this matter it is claimed that Tilden can rightfully claim the support of Democratic congressmen two years hence.

"All Honor to the New York Republican."

New York, Oct. 7.—The Sun's leading article to-day, under the head of "All honor to the New York Republicans," begins with "We think that every patriotic citizen should heartily rejoice over the proceeding of the Republican Convention held in this city Wednesday. The chief and most conspicuous feature of the proceedings was the sincere and unchangeable determination evinced by a great majority of the delegates to set the heel of the party firmly and immovably upon every attempt to make Grant President for a third term."

Ninety Postmasters to be Appointed.

Washington, October 7.—There will be about ninety nominations of postmasters at the coming special session of the Senate. Of these about forty-five are of the postmasters appointed by President Garfield after adjournment last summer. There are twenty-one postoffices which became presidential on the first of last July because of the increase of the receipts, and twenty-two which became presidential on the first of the present month. Nominations for these it is supposed will be sent in.

The French Delegates Visit West Point.

New York, October 7.—The French delegates to Yorktown left this morning for West Point and passed through Twenty-third street accompanied by the French military company.

Will Nullify.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Herald says: A strong probability exists that a special commission of Congress will declare null the election in Havana, and perhaps in Santiago de Cuba.

The Statuarts on the Committee.

New York, Oct. 7.—The Times to-day points out that of the thirteen statuarts members of the new State Committee twelve are from New York, Brooklyn and Buffalo.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 7.—There is a good healthy tone to the wool market. Prices are sustained, with a good demand from manufacturers, although the market is less active than for some previous weeks. Sales of all kinds amount to 2,500,000 lbs., which include Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, at 43 to 45 for xxx and xx 8 above. Michigan fleeces 41 to 43. Pennsylvania 42. Most of Michigan held as medium and No. 1 fleeces at 45 to 50. The latter prices for fleeces unwashed fleeces continue, and there have been considerable sales. Carpet 18 to 19. Coarse and low 19 to 23. Fine 24 to 32, and medium 25 to 35. Combing and delaine fleeces have been in demand, with prices firm and a shade higher for fine delaine, with sales at 46 to 49 for combing. About 500,000 lbs. Kentucky, Missouri, and others, combing was being sold at 32, and there is a more active demand for this description. California wool quiet and fall rejected. Pulled wool is in demand at 33 and 50. Very choice superfine selling at 45 to 50. There is a firm feeling for all kinds of foreign wool, but sales have not been to any extent.

Inspection Commissioners.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 7.—The commissioners appointed by the President to inspect two hundred completed miles at the western end of the Northern Pacific Railroad were Thos. T. Miner, of Fort Townsend, W. T.; H. H. Gerringe, of New York; Chris. W. Sloge, of Fairfield, Iowa.

Caved in and Shut in.

San Francisco, Oct. 7.—A dispatch from Upper Lake says the air shaft and hoisting works at Sulphur Bank quicksilver mine, caved in about 4 o'clock this evening. There were four white men and two Chinamen in the 210 foot level who were shut in without a chance to get air. All the miners are at work to get them out.

Jones of Nevada.

The central figure at the present moment is undoubtedly that of Senator Jones. He has been the trusted friend and firm ally of Gen. Arthur, and the part which he has played since the death of the late President has been a most conspicuous one. His house at Washington has been the headquarters of the new administration, and he has probably consulted upon every step which has been taken. Senator Jones is a man of ability and patriotism. He desires to serve his country as best he may, and it remains to be seen whether his services will not be recognized by some influential post. Indeed, it has been more than whispered that Mr. Jones will be Secretary of the Interior, the new Cabinet, and that in resigning his Senatorship he will make room for his old friend Mackay, who, it is said, is desirous of entering public life. Those who believe so add that, while it is true that the Legislature of Nevada is Democratic, the great personal influence of Mr. Mackay and the benefits which he has showered upon his State would be sufficient to have him elected. It is also said that it is not without the realm of possibilities that Mr. Lapham will resign and that Gov. Cornell will appoint Mr. Conkling to succeed him. Conkling, it is said, does not want a place in the Cabinet, and such an arrangement would bring about the good feeling which the Half Breeds have clamored for so loudly. A foreign mission would then await Mr. Lapham, who would be only too glad to see his quondam friend back in the place which he filled so long and so honorably.—From The Hour.

Horse Thieves.

Since last April Sheriff Barron, of Elbert county, has been after a band of horse thieves who have been operating in this State and in Kansas. A few days since he secured four of them in the latter commonwealth, and with them fifty-five head of stolen horses. Last week he got on the trail of another member of the band, who was known to be somewhere in the mountains of Colorado, and securing the assistance of Captain Charles A. Hawley, of the Rocky Mountain Detective Association, the two started for Hancock. From Hancock the pair went to Pitkin, thence to the Hot Springs, thence on to the Tomichi, and then back to Hancock again, and here they found their man, and while Captain Hawley covered the scoundrel with a revolver, Captain Barron put the handcuffs on him. This was last Saturday afternoon and the prisoner was brought to Denver, reaching here Sunday morning. The same day he was taken to Kiowa and had a preliminary examination, resulting in his being held to answer. He was then brought back to this city, and is now an inmate of the county jail. The culprit's name is Will Hall, and he is charged with the theft of three horses belonging to W. L. Marey. Having stolen the animals, Hall sold them to a man named Cheery, from whom they were afterwards recovered. Captain Hawley and Barron are a "bad" team in criminal matters, and when they go on a case something is generally heard to "drap."—Denver Tribune.

Very little attention is paid in Washington to the report that several Republican and Democratic Senators on the funeral train reached an agreement in regard to the organization of the Senate, by which the Republicans were to be allowed to elect the presiding officer without opposition, and to retain the committees, while the Democrats would content themselves with the secretary and sergeant-at-arms. The reported arrangement seems to have been based on the idea that it will be useless for the Democrats to elect a president pro tem, since as soon as the three Republicans in waiting are sworn in the Republicans will have a majority, and can then proceed to elect the presiding officer, and all other officers as well. But the Republicans will not be so situated as to be able to accomplish this. After the two New York Senators and a successor to Gen. Burnside are sworn in, the Senate will stand thirty-seven Republicans and thirty-seven Democrats, Davis, of Illinois, and Mahone. There is no confidence among the Republicans that Davis will now vote with them to organize the Senate. The circumstances are different from those under which he conducted a Republican vote last spring. Unless he does unexpectedly support the Republicans, the Senate, for all purposes of organization following the election of a president pro tem, will be a tie. The Democrats could not change any of the committees, and the secretaries and other minor officers could not be elected, except as a matter of compromise.

Early Saturday morning the steam-barge Maine came into collision with the Clark street bridge and forced it open. Two young men in a buggy narrowly escaped death. The vehicle and horse were thrown into the water but were recovered, the horse being uninjured.

A sensational rumor was started in Washington Saturday stating that Guiteau had taken poison and was dead. The only foundation for it was in his being dosed with quinine for malaria.

A severe shock of earthquake is reported from Kamouraska, P. Q. There was a slight frost in Quebec yesterday.

Fatal Ending of a Quarrel Between Ranchmen.

Garnet Lee and W. L. Worley are two ranchmen who have been living together on the Lee ranch, several miles out from Raton. Wednesday morning Mr. Lee rode into Raton and delivered himself to the law, stating that he had killed Mr. Worley in an altercation that he had with him early in the morning.

The facts gleaned in the case were meagre, but the nearest we can learn is that the shooting occurred at the house of Mr. Lee on the ranch. There was a quarrel between Mr. Lee and Mr. Worley regarding the possession of the house, Lee claiming that it was time for Worley to vacate, and seek a house of his own instead of living at Lee's residence. This dispute engendered bitterness between the parties, and a quarrel was the result, during which it is claimed that Worley drew his pistol on Lee, when the latter drew his weapon and fired with fatal effect. A coroner's jury was summoned at once and went out to the ranch.

Lee, the killer in this affair, is well known here in town, having for some time resided here, and having a father, mother and several brothers and sisters in this vicinity. Worley came here last spring from another part of the State, looking for an investment in cattle, having but recently sold his flocks. He leaves a wife, but we believe no children.—Trinidad News.

J. J. Gaaney, of the Delmonico Restaurant, will establish a depot here for fresh oysters and fish, and supply dealers throughout the Territory. This is the most available point for such a depot, being readily accessible and a point where ice can be saved in winter. This is another business which will be likely to flourish.

Father Coudert is breaking ground on the Hot Springs road, about one mile of town for a large Catholic cemetery. The new grounds, measuring 800 feet each way, will be substantially fenced with stone, and a large number of ornamental trees will be set in this fall. The Father hopes that civilization may not interfere with the dead there as it has on Zion Hill of late.

We shall be prepared in a day or two to answer the often asked question: "What is there to build up and support a large town at Las Vegas?" and we think we shall be able to prove to the satisfaction of all reasonable people that a very large town is a necessity—an inevitable necessity, just where we are located.

Ohio is one of the States in which a full Legislature is to be elected this fall, and Virginia is another. The friends of the presidential possibilities three years hence are figuring on the situation and the proverbial bar'l is likely to be pretty freely tapped to help on these two campaigns.

Fred. Hooper writes that he is on his way from the Canadian with a hundred and fifty of the finest beets that ever left the river. Fred has purchased the Fraley meat market on the east side, and will stock it up with the best meat in the market. He will remove his family here to live.

One Sunday, during the meeting of the Geographical Congress at Venice, a boat race took place on the Grand Canal. The whole city turned out to witness it in gondolas. Twelve gilded barges, richly carved and draped, attracted general attention. The gondoliers were dressed in fancy costumes. Those of one barge had a bear in the stern, a seal at the prow, and were dressed as Esquimaux. Nine skiff gondolas competed for a prize. The King and Queen looked on from the Palazzo Foscari.

At Bloomington, Ill., the jailer, Ted Franks, was shot and killed by a horse-thief named Pierce. When the citizens heard the news, they gathered en masse and overpowered the sheriff and police, and, seizing the murderer, dragged him out and hanged him to a tree.
